A problem which may be worked out satisfactorily in the upper grades of any grammar school having a teacher of the right sort may come to be for them a study of great interest, care and love; and later, they will feel their worth and dignity as producers, as one of the prime factors of well organized and more complete life. Plate XV. Cover and monthly pages of a handsome calendar published by seventh grade children. Cedar Rapids, Iowa Through the nature drawing, we come not to nature merely, but to her very spirit and splendor, as is expressed not alone in the children's drawings, but also in their testimonials on these pages. They were asked to write briefly, how the art work had helped them. A free expression Plate XVI. Two pages from the Cedar Rapids calendar giving the opinions of the children themselves as to the value of art instruction of their individual opinions was desired and secured. In quoting their happy responses, misspelled words have been corrected, but the diction, punctuation and composition of sentences remain unchanged and entire. Plate XVIII. Models of appliances for transporting, storing, and utilizing the harvest, by German children It is regretted that we cannot print the whole four hundred thoughts which were expressed in countless delightful ways and which show appreciation of what art has done and is doing for...
